Dedication

Sometimes there are persons who perform their tasks so efficiently and at the same time helping others in such a self-forgetful way that they go unheralded. Such a person is Mrs. Gene Brakefield, the wife of our principal.

We wish to pay a tribute of appreciation and admiration to her for her diligent work "behind the scenes" in helping our principal better direct the affairs of our school, and for her numerous other acts of thoughtfulness in behalf of the student body, especially the refreshments frequently brought to the annual staff during the late hours spent in yearbook preparation. Among our "favorite people" is Mrs. Brakefield, and to her we dedicate this edition of the MARTINIAN.

Foreword

Martin . . . We will always remember the name. To help us remember the many joyful experiences and all of our friends, we, the Senior Class, present the 1962 edition of the Martinian. It contains many memories of the first class to complete a full school curriculum in Thomas W. Martin High School. Now as we prepare to take our places in life, many will travel different paths and after graduation some will never meet again. But, we will always have this volume of our Martinian to look through and remember our golden days at Martin.

Superintendent's Message

"If I take care of my Character, my reputation will take care of itself."

Remember your hope of success, the hope of our country and of the world lies in individual character.

"Our grand business in life is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies already at hand."

Exalt small task and some day great undertakings will honor you.

Keep your feet on the earth but let your thoughts sweep the heavens.

MARTINIANS -- EXCELSIOR.

Your faithful friend,

Principal's Message

No social activity is more important than education. A century ago, in our country, the average American needed only elementary instructions in the "Three R's" plus a grain of common sense; today this is not enough; everyone, to some extent, is a specialist.

In the modern world, we need a wide variety of talents. We need many kinds of people - each with special training, but all with a broad background and a point of view. Be sure that you are not deprived of the fullest opportunity to develop your own talents.

The easy way of life does not always make the greatest individual. Do not let a group stray you from your path. In this Rocket Age, you must be ready to meet this challenge and make the necessary adjustments. May your great adventure in Life be a successful and rewarding one - and may you have a part in making America a stronger nation and a better place in which to live.

GRADUATION

The month of May approaches,
And soon across the land
The graduation speakers
Will tell us where we stand.

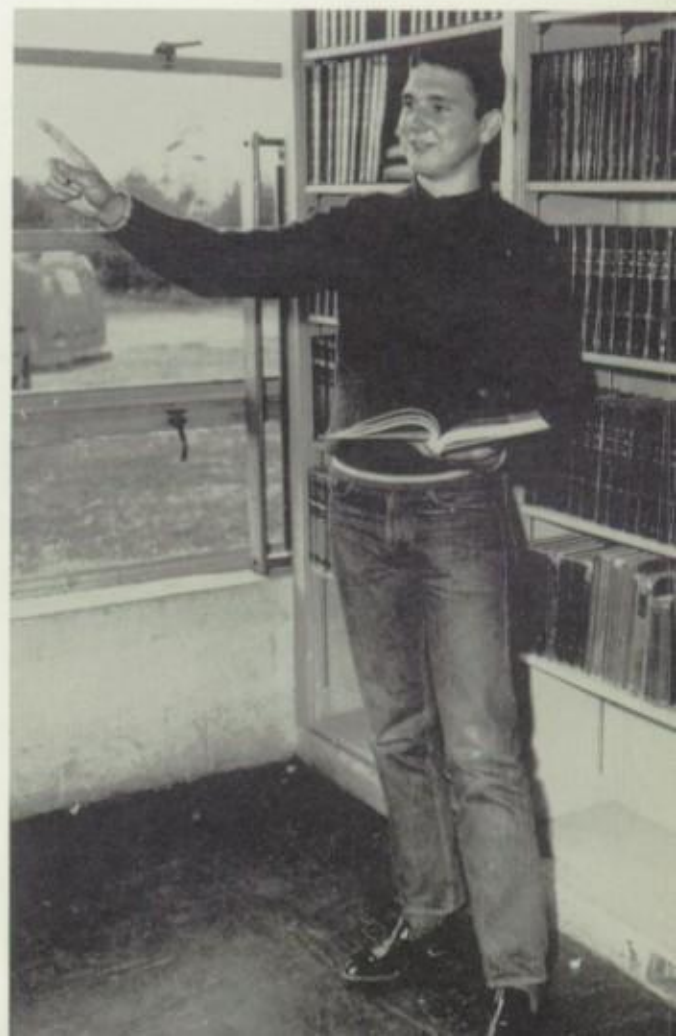

We stand at dear ole Martin,
In the presence of the press;
We're standing at the crossroads,
At the stairway to success.

We stand upon the stage,
Of careers all brightly lit.
In the midst of all this standing,
We just sit and sit and sit.

For now the things of life,
Are more closely to our reach,
And now we hope we remember
The things the teachers tried to teach.

LINDA BARBER
Class Grumbler

BARBER'S BARKS AND BITES

For the first time in my twelve years at Martin I find myself stuck with something I don't deserve. It's not that I can't grumble as much as anyone else when I want to; it's just that I don't make a practice of it. Even so, I am going to take advantage of this opportunity. I don't think it would be hard for anyone to get class grumbler when you have to put up with a bunch like this class.

Take Hugh Blackwell; he must think he's Robert Frost the way he is always writing poems. Why, I could write a poem in one minute, and it would sound better than one it took him two days to write. And that Diane Brasfield; I've often wondered why she got better grades than I. I guess it's because she sits next to Miss White's desk. She can just glance and see the answers. I do wish Jimmie Nell Brown would quit bragging about a steady boyfriend. I could have one, too, if I chased them the way she does. That Barbara Busby thinks she's smart because she's so short. Well, I'm not much taller than she is - just about ten inches. I guess Martha Carmicheal thinks she's smart, too, because she got Good Citizenship Girl. Well, I was in the running, also. Jo Ann Ingle, Miss White's "Handy Girl," thinks she's it because she is class treasurer. I think she is embezzling our money; I never know where any of it goes.

Something else that gripes me is Jimmy Garner; he owes all his success in football to the other ten members of the team, yet he gets all the credit. And, I do wish he would stop asking for the Mountain Eagle after every game. Class President, Wanda Green, knows about as much about being class president as I do. I think that if I had got it, I could have carried on as well as she does. Just because Martha Hatji get to go up North every summer doesn't make her a high society girl. I'm far more sophisticated than she is. Another person who gets on my nerves is Johnny Price, "Mr. Big"; his nose is so far up in the air, since some of his so-called honors, that if it were to rain he would drown. And Brenda Hendon! Does anyone honestly think she is the cutest girl in the class? Why, if Leacy Turner were to die, Brenda would be the ugliest girl in the world. If I ever get the money, I am going to send James Sanford to Hollywood; he's the playboy type, you know. He is constantly trying to get some girl to notice him. Why, he would undoubtedly put Rock Hudson to shame. If I were sick of anything in my life, it is Barry Northcutt talking about himself and his disciples up at Sherer's. He could at least let people eat at recess in peace.

Mr. Good Citizenship, James Key; I don't believe it. I think he's a communist. Who will it be for Mildred Farley? Jerry Odom? Or that other boy? I do wish Kate Lockhart would quit trying to out sing me. She knows I can sing better than she. Motorcycles! That's all Hillman Wright can talk about. I wish there were someone else who shared his interest so he wouldn't bore everyone else. I can't very well pass up the Casanova Kid, Carey Oakley; he brags about all the girls he has stood up. I don't see where he gets time to breathe. If you ever see June Dobbins giving you that little, dimpled grin you had better watch out; she is up to something. I don't know what's wrong with Helen Ferguson; I suppose the cat got her tongue. I will never understand how Roger Youngblood got his driver's license. Honestly, a two year old could drive better than he. And to think my life is in his hands every morning on that school bus! I wish you would look at those bags under Mary Lee Crowe's eyes; they're from those week-night dates. Personally, I'd rather stay home and do my homework. If Tommy Kimbrell could do other things as well as he can twist, he'd be up here in the spotlight with me. I don't know whether you have noticed or not, but Patsy Smith must think she has pretty knees the way she is always wearing those short skirts. I guess Billy Stephenson must have an eye for the girls this year because he isn't worth a flip in basketball. No wonder Hilda Sullivan's hair is so fuzzy; it's because she rides around in that big convertible with the top down. A fine example of leadership from our class is Neil Goodwin; he thinks he knows everything since he was elected president of the Dramatics Club. If Johnny Kimbrell had "as many smarts" as he had words, he would never have a worry in this world. I can't understand why Bill Coombes is so industrious all of a sudden. Why, he's been as busy as a bee the last few months.

And now for the slave drivers. I'll start with Miss White. You can't ever please that woman. I've tried for two years and all I've ever got out of it is a paddling for chewing gum. And I do wish Mr. Wylie would get a job at the Redstone Arsenal; he is always talking so scientifically. If he would just go up there, maybe they would mistake him for a monkey and he could become a sho' nuf astronaut. One of these days I am going to write Mr. Brakefield a speech so that when he interrupts a class he'll have something interesting to report.

All in all, I guess that's about it. There are some more things I could say but I'm just tired of thinking about this bunch.

Last Will and Testament

We, the graduating class of 1962, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath and bequest, to the below mentioned persons, our abilities, loves, and experiences with hopes that they will come in as handy as the ones we received last year.

We, the Seniors of '62, leave to you, as they were left to us, Miss White and Mr. Wylie to do with as you see fit. We hope they will be as much help and fun to you as they have been to us.

This being the last will and testament of our class, we hereby declare all other wills or testaments, promises, and grants, null and void.

I, Linda Barber, will my ability to get a paddling for chewing gum and title of class grumbler to Retha Kilpatrick.

I, Hugh Blackwell, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will my ability to be the wittiest bus driver ever to graduate from Martin to Douglas Odom.

I, Diane Brasfield, will my ability to lock up the gears in a Chevrolet to Margaret Carter, with hopes that she learns to unlock them easier than I.

I, Jimmie Nell Brown, will Ronny Robbins to Carol Smith - "Just for next year."

I, Barbara Busby, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will my love for fences, rolling pastures, and "Bulls" to Linda Lou Busby.

I, Martha Carmichael, will my title of "Good Citizenship Girl" to Wilma Cornelius.

I, Bill Coombes, will my ability to intercept a pass and make six points to Clyde Key.

I, Mary Lee Crowe, will my love for black hair, blue eyes, and dark complexions to Martha Garner.

Prophecy

Well, it looks as though I, Barry Northcutt, am stuck with the duties of prophesying the future of my classmates and myself. Here is what I see in the future.

Linda Barber, the immortal class grumbler, is griping for a living; she's a top sergeant in the WACS.

Hugh Blackwell, the friend of the friendless, is raising a family and birddogs.

Diane Brasfield, along with her pal, June Dobbins, is running a portable funeral home to serve disaster areas during National Emergencies.

Bill Coombes is busy working as probation officer for wayward boys.

Jimmie Nell Brown is a fill-in for Debbie Drake on TV when Miss Drake does not appear.

Well, Jimmy Garner is working as a dentist, his lifetime ambition, at the Birmingham Animal Hospital.

Barbara Busby is working on a novel for husband-seeking women with a visible handicap. It is called TOO SHORT TO SUPPORT.

Neil Goodwin has really brought billiards out of the dark spots by the opening of his new chain of billiard rooms.

Well, Martha Carmichael has finally made it; she has received her Ph.D. at MIT.

James Arlie Key is with the Peace Corps in the Congo.

Mary Lee Crowe and Hilda Sullivan are working for the Red Diamond Coffee Company creating those witty commercials they use.

My old friend Tommy Kimbrell owns the Peppermint Lounge in New York now. His superior "twisting" ability got him to the top.

Mildred (Midge) Farley is one of the foremost Commercial Artists in the nation; fashions are her specialty.

Helen Ferguson is working as a stenographer for Bill Coombes.

Wanda Green has had jobs at five different airlines as a stewardess. I wonder why she can't hold a job.

Martha Hatji now owns the biggest ranch in Texas, taking up the whole Panhandle.

Carey Oakley, a renowned geologist, works six months a year and does what he knows best the other six - namely nothing.

James Sanford runs a National Hot Rod Sanctioned Dragstrip at the old Jasper Airport.

Jerry Odom runs his dragster, "The Draggin Waggin," at James' strip every Sunday. By the way, Jerry holds the national record for a class A dragster.

Johnny Price has replaced Frank A. Rose as the President of the University of Alabama.

Brenda Hendon is director of an old folks' home at Punkin Center.

Jo Ann Ingle is writing a book called THE HOW'S, WHY'S, AND WHEN'S ABOUT MEN.

Kate Lockhart is presently running an engagement at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, playing her guitar and singing.

Patsy Smith runs a drive-in on Hatt Hill called Smitty's Park & Spark.

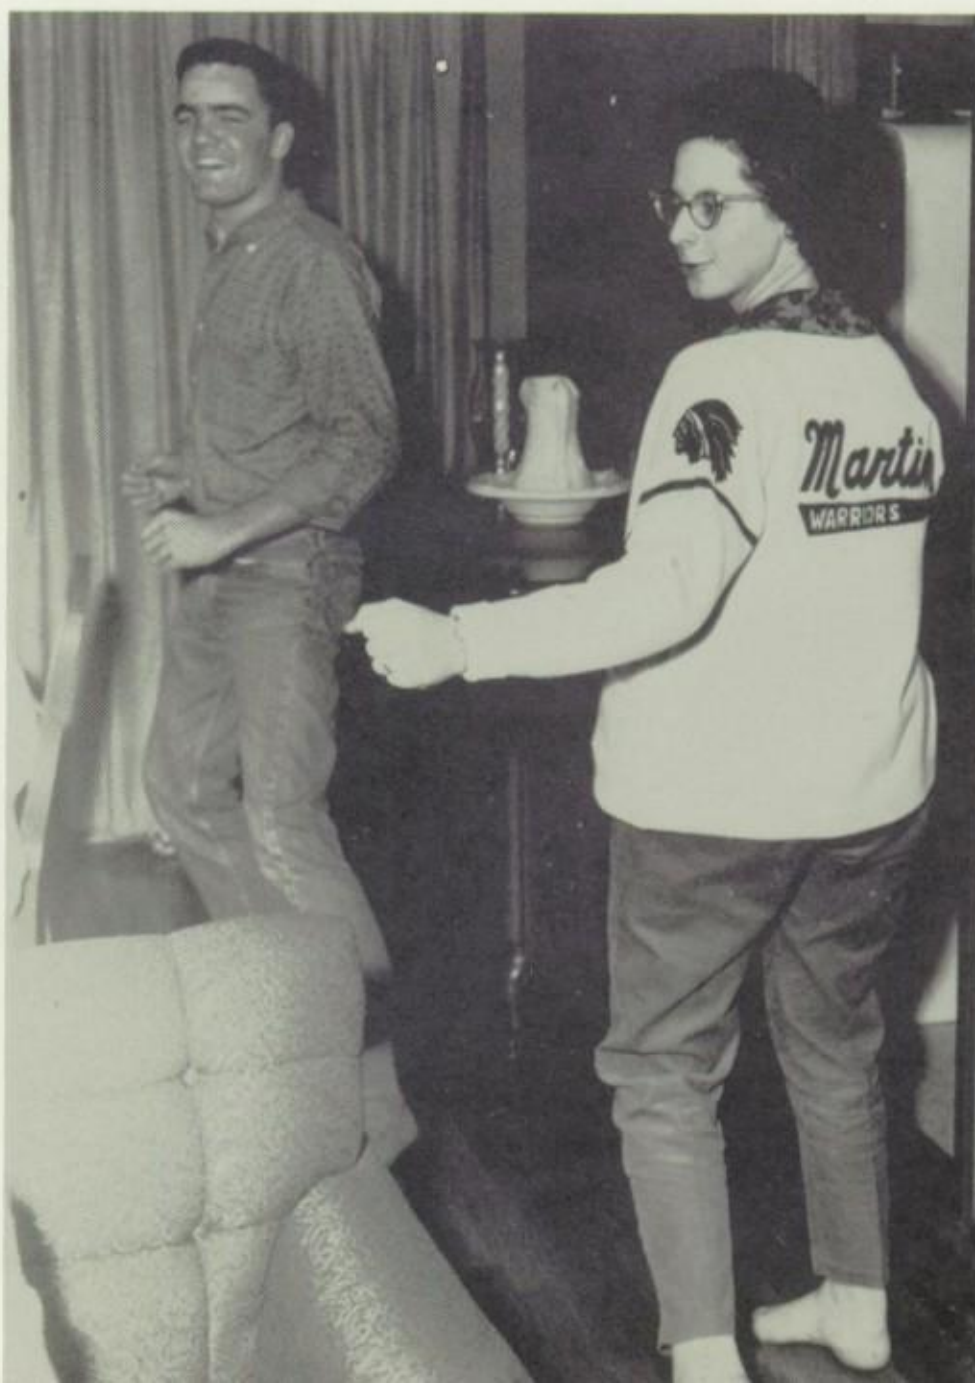

Leacy Turner is now Director of the Parks and Recreation Facilities in Birmingham.

Billy (Ace) Stephenson is now coach for the famed Boston Celtics working on his third straight NBA championship.

Hillman Wright is now the owner of the Harley-Davidson company famed for fine motorcycles and broken bones.

Roger Youngblood runs the new steamship line on the Warrior towing barges back and forth to Mobile. His line is popularly known as the Beat Ten Tugs.

Johnny Mack Kimbrell and I are at the present on the west side of Bourbon Street in New Orleans. Man, what a life!

Highlights of the Past

It is only when we review the accomplishments of this class that we realize it has been four years since we began our freshman year in high school.

The class of '62 invites you to go back with us as we attempt to publish our class history.

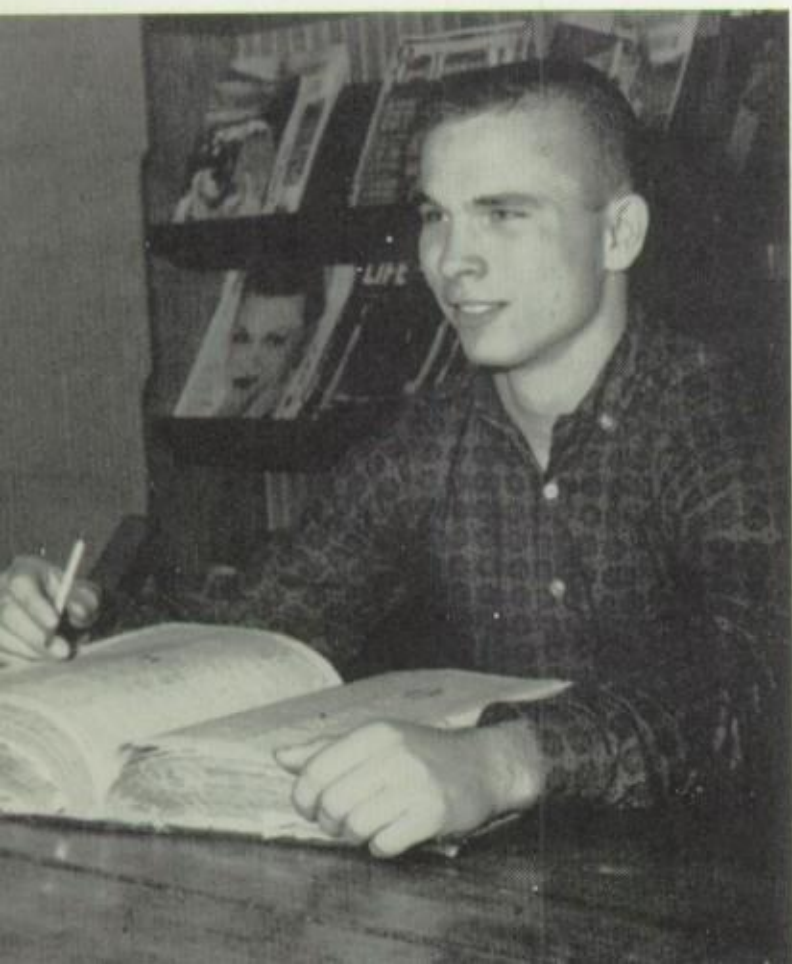

Beauty and personality began to show itself in our class as we provided two of the favorites in the Miss Martin High Contest. We also boasted our ability to place some Warriors on the football team.

The greatest of honors was bestowed upon us in the tenth as the selection of Miss Martin High and fourth runner-up in the Mr. Martin High Contest. We boasted still a greater number of boys in the various fields of sports.

As Juniors we strived to better our class still further by placing various members of our class in each of the clubs the school has to offer. We showed beauty reigned as ever as we placed first and second runner-ups in the Miss Martin High Contest and second maid and escort in the Homecoming Court. We showed still further improvement in sports as we placed a number of players on the first string in both football and basketball. The climax of the year was the promotion of the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Now we are Seniors. We again showed our ability in sports by placing nine Seniors on the "A" string, who were cheered on by two Seniors among the cheerleaders. This is the best football season yet in our school's history. At homecoming we were represented by Miss Homecoming and her escort. In the annual beauty contest we were honored to have Mr. Martin High and two runner-ups chosen from our class.

In closing, we would like to thank everyone who has helped our class have such a gallant history.
